

TREES LEADERS ALWAYS SEE THE FOREST FOR THE TREES

Joe Biden, Hillary Clinton, Tom Vilsack, Janet Napolitano, Gary Locke, Kathleen Sebelius, Hilda Solis. These members of the President's cabinet—and the President himself—support the Roadless Area Conservation Rule to protect our last undeveloped national forests, fight global warming, save fish and wildlife and provide clean drinking water to millions of Americans. Now that we have leadership that sees the forests for the trees, it's time to uphold the 2001 Roadless Area Conservation Rule.
